

Michael Culture
Association

European Network

providing new experiences of European digital cultural heritage

JOIN US

Created in 2007, the association represents a European gathering public and private cultural organizations from all over Europe.

It aims at :

PROMOTING AND VALORISING

European cultural heritage by its digitization and dissemination to a European and worldwide audience

ENHANCING the network of European professionals working on digital cultural heritage.

WHY JOIN US

To become part of the Minerva network of European professionals working on digital cultural heritage :

MICHAEL CULTURE strongly supports the network, federating more than 100 cultural institutions from all over Europe.

To participate in major European initiatives :

MICHAEL CULTURE is highly implicated in European and international projects. It participates in the ongoing construction of Europeana, the European Digital Library, and is a board member of the EDL foundation.

To promote digital cultural collections to a European and worldwide audience :

MICHAEL CULTURE develops tools and services, such as the Michael portal, the European catalogue of online digitised cultural collections.

With the support of the Culture programme of the European Union
